

GERMANY, ITALY NOTIFY UNITED STATES THAT "STATE OF WAR EXISTS" WITH THIS GOVERNMENT; PRESIDENT MOVES TO ASK CONGRESS FOR RETALIATORY DECLARATION

By George Durno

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Germany and Italy today formally notified this government that a "state of war exists" with the United States and President Roosevelt immediately moved to ask Congress for a retaliatory declaration at noon.

The White House announced the President's decision, and Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early said Congressional leaders had been notified to introduce resolutions for formal declarations of war against Germany and Italy, thus placing this nation in open hostilities with all three Axis partners.

The German notification was delivered to the State Department by Hans Thomsen, charge d'affaires of the German Embassy, the Italian action through a note delivered by the Italian Foreign Minister Count Ciano, to George Wadsworth, the American charge d'affaires in Rome, who relayed it to the State Department at 10 a. m. E. S. T.

Thomsen called at the State Department with the German note at 8:15 a. m., but Secretary of State Hull added tenseness to the drama by bluntly refusing to receive him. After waiting an hour and 45 minutes, Thomsen was

HITLER DECLARES WAR IN SPEECH

Berlin—Via German Wireless—Adolf Hitler today sent Germany and Italy into war against the United States.

At the end of a speech to the Reichstag at Kroll Opera House, Hitler announced he had handed the American Charge d'Affaires in Berlin his passports and declared war "in honor of the tripartite pact" linking Germany and Italy with Japan.

It was the first time in more than two years and three months of unceasing hostilities throughout the world that Hitler had issued a declaration of war before launching an attack.

(Note: In this connection there have been reports that Japanese planes participating in the initial bombing of Hawaii were piloted by Germans. The Nazi high command also is credited with plotting the Japanese strategy in the Pacific.)

The United States has "forced the struggle" upon Japan, the Fuehrer announced in a long tirade against President Roosevelt and the United States which ended with the war declaration.

As a result, he said, Germany, Italy and Japan have signed a full and formal military alliance which will remain in effect as long as the war lasts.

"After victory," he said, it will be employed for the purpose of furthering and perpetuating the "new order" throughout Europe and Asia.

The step was taken, Hitler said, not only in aid of Japan but because plans have been uncovered that the United States planned to attack Germany "by 1943."

"In his ambition for world dictatorship," Hitler said, "Roosevelt has refrained from nothing. Both he and England have, in flagrant contradiction of international law, attacked German ships and in the end went even so far as to give shooting orders to their navies to sink German and Italian ships."

Japan Claims U. S. Aircraft Carrier Sunk

Tokyo—Japan today claimed a new smashing victory over the U. S. Pacific Fleet with destruction of the Aircraft Carrier Lexington and the sinking of an American submarine and a destroyer.

The giant aircraft carrier, the Japanese said, was sunk off Hawaii, scene of the initial and unheralded onslaught by Japanese bombing planes upon the Pacific Fleet last Sunday.

Japanese Ship "Haruna" Is Sunk

Washington—Secretary of War Stimson today announced the sinking of the 29,000-ton Japanese battleship Haruna, off the coast of Northern Luzon yesterday.

U. S. Men Score Signal Triumphs

Manila—America's men at arms, defending the Philippines, scored signal air and land triumphs today over the Japanese, a lone U. S. bombing plane wreaking fire and destruction on one of Nippon's proud battleships while combined American and Philippine troops blasted a major invasion attempt.

Roaring out of the sky, the plane scored three direct bomb hits on the 29,000-ton dreadnought of the Hiryu class, leaving it burning off northern Luzon.

Chairmen of Groups in Phila. and Seven Adjacent Counties Plan for Co-operation

BUCKS IS REPRESENTED

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11.—(INS)—Chairmen of Defense Councils in Philadelphia and seven adjacent counties met with Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel today to map definite plans of co-operation during the war emergency.

The following counties were represented at today's meeting: Philadelphia, Bucks, Montgomery, Chester and Delaware, and Camden, Gloucester and Burlington in New Jersey.

The Mayor also announced that legislation was being drawn up which would penalize anyone not co-operating in a blackout.

Superintendent of schools, Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, meanwhile, declared that the city's 237,000 public school pupils "are as safe in the schools as anywhere else during an air raid, and probably safer."

TULLYTOWN, Dec. 11.—Little "Tommy" Maybury was host to a number of friends, Friday, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maybury, on his sixth birthday anniversary. Games were played, and refreshments partaken of. Tommy received many gifts. Guests included: Glenn Gerhart, Robert and Richard Baker, Ruth and Wayne Stake, "Jackie" Swangler, and Jessie Maybury.

Two Residents of Croydon Are Located in Honolulu

CROYDON, Dec. 11.—Two residents of Croydon are located in Honolulu, T. H., where on Sunday the Japanese first struck at United States territory. They are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkie, who have made their home in the islands for over a year.

Mr. Wilkie, who is in the navy, is located on the "Louisville," and previously served on the "Houston."

Early last week Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkie, Sr., received a Christmas package from the couple; also a letter in which they stated everything was quiet.

HOT LUNCHES PROVIDED EACH WEEK TO STUDENTS

Manor Park School Students, Morrisville, Benefit By Such

MOTHERS CO-OPERATE

MORRISVILLE, Dec. 11.—Hot lunches are being served once each week to Manor Park school students.

The mothers of some pupils are co-operating in the venture, the meals being prepared from surplus commodity foods, which are supplemented by food purchased through pupil contributions or through donations of friends.

First and second grade pupils are served on Wednesday and third and fourth grade pupils are served on Thursday.

The committee of mothers who have been preparing the Wednesday meals consist of Mrs. Amos Foster, chairman; Mrs. Chester Doan, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Charles Hall and Mrs. Franklin Hogeland, assisted by Miss Mary Broome and Miss Mabel Moberg, Manor Park teachers.

Mrs. Paul Chapman is chairman of the Thursday meal committee, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Neuman, Mrs. Walter Huff, Mrs. David LeBeur, Mrs. Ernest Pittman, Mrs. Robert McGuigan, Mrs. James Smallwood, Mrs. Charles Marrazzo, Mrs. Frank Vaneekhoven, Mrs. Joseph Marrazzo and Mrs. Beatrice Schwalm, assisted by Miss Mildred Arms and Miss Rita Coley, teachers.

The Morrisville Fathers' Association showed its approval of the lunch project by purchasing and presenting to the school enough chinaware to serve the children, thus removing the necessity for the children to bring their own dishes on the day when lunch was served. Other donations which have helped to make it possible to carry on this project included the following: A two-plate electric stove, donated by Mrs. Charles Smith, Morrisville; an oil stove, donated by Mrs. John Drew, Falls Township; two-plate electric stove donated by William B. Anderson, retiring president of the Morrisville board of education.

To Have Air-Raid Drill At Tullytown, Sunday

TULLYTOWN, Dec. 11.—There will be an emergency air raid drill Sunday afternoon at the request of the local warden, James Magro.

All members of the Tullytown Emergency Police are to be at the posts designated them at 2:55 p. m., attired in caps and badges.

All members of the Tullytown Volunteer Fire Company are also requested to be at the fire house at that time.

One long blast of the siren will be the signal for the drill to begin or for an air raid warning. One long blast will also be used when it is over.

CONCERT BY P. T. A.

ANDALUSIA, Dec. 11.—A concert will be conducted in Kings Hall, on Monday evening at 8:15, by the Parent-Teacher Association of Andalusia school. This will be the only entertainment conducted by the group this term. There will be no Christmas play arranged for the public as in former years. Tickets for Monday's concert may be procured from the school children or at the door. The hour is 8:15.

BUCKINGHAM MAN IS BUCKS 1ST CASUALTY IN WAR WITH JAPAN

Marion Zaczekiewicz, 26, Killed At Hickam Field, Hawaii, Sunday

PARENTS ARE NOTIFIED

Former National Farm School Student is Also Killed In Hawaii

BUCKINGHAM, Dec. 11.—A young Buckingham township man, Marion Zaczekiewicz, 26, is one of several Pennsylvanians killed in action at Hickam Field, Hawaii, during the raid by the Japanese last Sunday.

Word was received yesterday by Zaczekiewicz's parents, that the son, a private in the U. S. Army, had met his death.

The young man, a graduate of Doylestown high school in 1934, enlisted in the Air Corps in Philadelphia on Memorial Day, 1940. He was sent first to Fort Slocum, N. Y., then to San Francisco and Panama Canal Zone, where he completed his air training. Assigned to Hickam Field, he was attached to the 11th Bombing Squadron, and was secretary to that outfit's colonel.

Zaczekiewicz was active in basketball, track, and football during his high school days, and was assistant cub master of the Doylestown Boy Scout troop. He was employed for some time as a clerk in the Bucks County Recorder of Deeds office, Doylestown, and later with the Keystone Automobile Club branch there.

His father, a farmer, was born in Poland, and came to this country many years ago. Young Zaczekiewicz is survived also by six sisters and three brothers.

The youth, the first Bucks County casualty in this second world war in which the United States has become engaged, is one of nearly a score from Pennsylvania who lost their lives in the first engagement of the war, when the Japanese attacked without warning. Word was flashed to parents of many men throughout the United States yesterday, upon ascertainment of those whose lives had been lost.

A Philadelphia young man, who formerly was a student at National Farm School, Doylestown, is also among those killed at Hickam Field, Hawaii. The victim is corporal Theodore J. Lewis, 22, whose home is in the 4500 block of N. Broad street, Philadelphia.

Lewis' mother, Mrs. Anna Stitz, is a patient in a convalescent home in Philadelphia, where she is being treated for a nervous breakdown. She has not been informed of her son's death.

Lewis enlisted in the U. S. Army at the age of 17 years, while in his second year at the farm school. He has been in Hawaii for the past five years, serving his second enlistment. He has been captain of the artillery divisional football team.

CROYDON MAN GIVEN JAIL TERM FOR FIGHT

Defendant Was Accused of Assault and Battery In A Restaurant

OTHER CASES HEARD

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 11.—Pleading guilty to aggravated assault and battery, John Sakolash, 26, of Croydon, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Boyer to serve not less than six months or more than one year in the Bucks County Prison. Sakolash, a former soldier, will have his record turned over to the military authorities for further investigation. The defendant was involved in a fight at a restaurant at Bristol pike and Croydon road when he handed out a black eye to a customer and Mrs. Mary Coventry, Bridge-water road, who was employed there.

The young defendant said he served in the Army since 1936 until this year and was dishonorably discharged. Judge Boyer asked him why, and the defendant said, "I would rather not answer that."

At a session of miscellaneous court yesterday, with Judges Hiram H. Keller and Calvin S. Boyer sitting in two court rooms, a large number of cases were disposed of.

Walter Kelly, 40, of near Langhorne, charged with desertion and non-support, the father of four children, was directed to pay $15 a week toward the support of his family and to pay the costs of prosecution.

George J. Simpson, Langhorne, charged with non-support, by his wife, Agnes, and a 13-year-old son, was directed to pay the costs and $10 a week for the support of the son, Robert William Simpson, until a further order of the court. Simpson testified that he would bring fried oysters home at night and that his wife would refuse to eat them and throw them down in the cellar.

Samuel H. Fleming, Andalusia, charged with desertion and non-support of a son, by his wife, Margaret, was directed to pay the costs and $15 a month until his son is 18 years old. The son is William Samuel Fleming, of Riverside, N. J. The Flemings were divorced in 1937. It was testified that Fleming has paid between $6,000 and $7,000 in support.

James McCole, Bristol, charged with non-support of a minor child, a daughter, 13, was directed to pay $5 a week support order.

Walter Radziewicz, 22, Sellersville, charged with felonious entry, larceny and receiving stolen goods, now serving time in the Eastern State Penitentiary, pleaded guilty yesterday. Judge Boyer sentenced him to serve one to five years, with the sentence to run concurrently with one he is now serving out of another jurisdiction.

"We might consider ourselves in defense work—the business of defending the public against drunken drivers," declared President Judge Hiram H.

Enjoyable Yuletide Party Participated In by W. C. T. U.

An enjoyable Christmas party was held at the Keene Home, Radcliffe street, on Tuesday evening, with Miss Mary J. Haines serving as hostess to members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The Christmas story was read from the New Testament by Mrs. Ada B. Sands; and carols were sung by the group. Mrs. Harry H. Headley called upon Mrs. Raymond Beswick for the minutes of the last meeting.

Santa Claus appeared and in a jovial manner presented a gift to each guest. Refreshments were then served.

At 10 o'clock the members listened to the radio message by President Roosevelt and joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" to the radio accompaniment of the Army Band.

CONSIDER UNEQUAL DISTRIBUTION OF HEALTH FACILITIES

As Concerns Public School Population Throughout Bucks County

CO-ORDINATION NEEDED

Dental Program Inadequate; Committee On Health Education Makes Survey

The unequal distribution of health facilities for the public school population in Bucks county was evident as the various members of the County Advisory Committee on Health Education and Welfare Activities made their initial report to the superintendent of the county schools. Meeting at the call of Superintendent Charles H. Boehm, the committee assembled in the County Education Building, Doylestown, and in a 2½ hour session heard informative reports of selected public and private health and welfare agencies.

In summarizing the reports the following conclusions were evident, a spokesman said:

"1. The health facilities are grossly unequally distributed with many boroughs enjoying excellent programs and many rural townships in the upper part of Bucks County and a few in the lower part enjoying practically no health facilities.

"2. There is a large need not only for more co-ordination and better distribution of government health services but also that of private organizations.

"3. Private agencies such as service clubs, women's clubs and others particularly give attention to areas where already the best health and welfare programs exist doing little or nothing to vast rural areas where a blackout of health facilities exists. Duplication and waste of local effort while deplored still exists in many parts of the county.

"4. The dental program is generally wholly inadequate. There is neither enough dental hygienists nor public health nurses available to serve Bucks County.

"Dr. Howard Hassell, State Medical Officer for Bucks County, and Dr. Linwood Grace, Chief, Dental Division of the State Department of Health, pointed out that because much of Pennsylvania Health program depends largely upon federal funds, and that such funds might be diverted to the defense program, the fourth class districts of Bucks County may lose the meager health facilities now available.

Judge Posters Made By Art Students at Yardley

YARDLEY, Dec. 11.—The Yardley Lions Club was treated to a timely "movie" on Tuesday evening, in the Yardley Country Club. The program was arranged by Warren R. Smith and Robert Hassel, and consisted of the film, "Warning." In striking fashion the work of the various defense units of the English nation was presented.

One of the features of the evening was the judging of posters made by the art classes in Yardley high school, announcing the Christmas home decoration contest, which is also sponsored by the Lions Club.

The winners of the contest include: 3rd to 5th grades, first, Carlissa Williamson; second, D. Williamson; third, George Jones.

Sixth to eighth grades: first, Marie Neaman; second, Alice Thompson; third, Lois Felger.

Ninth to 12th grades: first, Joseph Woolman; second, Richard Haman; third, Richard Chamberlain.

XMAS CAROL SERVICE

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Dec. 11.—A Christmas carol service will be held in connection with the meeting of Cornwells Parent-Teacher Association on Thursday evening, December 18th. The program will be given in the high school auditorium.

PARTY CANCELED

Lodge Donna Antonetta Grandi, No. 1634, Order Sons of Italy, will not conduct its Christmas party on Sunday as planned. The members will meet in regular session, however, at two o'clock.

MIND IN THE DIPPER

No wonder the world has been waiting for the sunrise all these years, as a song writer contends. Astronomers, according to a Science Service dispatch from Cambridge, Mass., have learned from their most recent findings that the sun is more than 100,000 miles farther from the earth than was previously supposed.

New measurements give its mean distance as 93,003,000 miles from the earth in place of the formerly accepted 92,870,000 miles. The fact may not interest those laymen who customarily use the figure 93,000,000 miles. But those who spoke of the distance as 92,000,000 miles will be called upon for a more radical mental readjustment.

Astronomers regard the findings as important because the sun's mean distance from the earth is the astronomer's yardstick by which he measures everything else in the universe. On this unit depend the figures for the masses of the earth, sun and moon, and on them depend in turn the accuracy of tide predictions and navigation. Small wonder Columbus didn't know where he was when he got to this side of the ocean.

It should not be a cause for astonishment to learn that many people envy astronomers these days. Of course, in measuring distances between the sun and earth they are still reminded of their own world. But for getting away from it all, studios application of mathematics to inter-stellar space must be supremely satisfying. To lose one's self in the big dipper is an ablation for the mind.

ANTI-TRUST ACTIONS

The Federal government has become active again in anti-trust actions. Some meat packers have been indicted under the anti-trust laws. Some haters are accused of fixing prices for Army hats. Attempts are being made to link labor unions with employers in general conspiracies to gain monopolies, suppress competition and establish prices without regard for what would be a fair level under a system of fair competition.

Americans are as strongly opposed to trusts as they were in the era of "trust busting," but the government must consider that it has lost public confidence in its handling of monopolies. Under a law which has been approved by the United States Supreme Court, it created a bituminous coal monopoly which is so tight that an operator who does not co-operate can be put out of business.

The Government recently balked at completing the monopoly by forcing all miners to join a union, but it has applied so much pressure unofficially to this end that there is little doubt about victory for the mine unions. The fact that the monopoly exists by sufferance and is to some extent regulated hardly eases the penalty on the consumer.

In suspending anti-trust enforcement while the NRA or blue buzzard was in effect, the government also encouraged trade agreements on the trust pattern. It has obtained indictments in cases where an industry was merely doing what it had been encouraged by Federal agencies to do. The new indictments merely arouse the people to the hope that some day the administration will lay down an anti-trust policy under which business can work in confidence and security.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM SUBURBAN TOWNS

HULMEVILLE

A covered dish supper was partaken of by the 33 women who on Monday evening attended the Christmas party of the Ladies' Auxiliary in the William Penn Fire Company station. The tables were colorful in their Yule-tide decorations, and a Christmas tree and fire-place were part of the decorative plan of the room. The entertainment and refreshment committee was composed of Mrs. Howard Potter, Mrs. Joseph Keen, Mrs. Joseph Mucklow, Mrs. William Perry, Miss Margaret Perry. Game prizes were won by Mrs. James Tracy, Mrs. Howard Potter, Mrs. Eva Mucklow, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Elwood Buck. Gifts were exchanged, and each person also received an old gift, which caused much merriment. At the brief business meeting, over which Miss Perry presided, officers were named as follows: President, Miss Perry; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Thorpe, Sr.; treasurer, Mrs. William Hill; secretary, Mrs. George Bilger.

Mrs. Catherine Wyino has returned to her home on Bath Road, after being a patient in Abington Hospital, where she received treatment.

"The work of the two dental clinics now working in Bucks County and the medical examination of the school children in first, fourth and eighth grades might have to be side-tracked. There are school districts now in Bucks County in which children have not been examined in many years. Two years ago many children were examined in the fourth class districts. The State of Pennsylvania has considerably curtailed the activities in the past four years.

"Dr. Howard Hassell reported on the fine work of the two State sanitarians. "In the absence of Miss Alice M. O'Halloran, Director, State Public Health Nurse, Miss Helen Ruff, a State Public Health Nurse, made an extensive report of the program of the public health nurses. The lack of sufficient nurses and the addition of more work to the present force leaves a great deal of territory with little such service.

"The Doylestown program of the American Red Cross as reported by Mrs. Henry Mercer, did have an extensive dental program which did extend northward to Riegelsville and covered many rural townships. This program has been discontinued.

"Miss Helen Ruff reported on the many activities of the V. I. A. Mrs. Eleanor Geiger of the Junior Red Cross and the Southampton Chapter of the Red Cross, Mrs. Nixon of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Samuel Permar of the County Defense Council, Dr. Muriel Robinson of the Dental Clinic work, Mary McGinley of the Dental Hygiene Work and Mrs. S. C. Jefferson of the P. T. A., briefly summarized the work of their organizations as far as the schools are concerned.

"Willard Curtin, Assistant District Attorney, and in charge of the Juvenile Court, pointed out the large expense that Bucks County is responsible each year for dependent children and for delinquent children. He recommended that the schools make their facilities available to the youth just out of school who definitely do not have many recreational facilities.

"Dr. Wynn Fredericks, Advisor, Department of Public Instruction, made a general concluding summary. Miss Matrona Walek acted as secretary of the meeting.

"The County Superintendent's staff was represented by Dr. Ruth Feddar, Albert C. Rutter, and Charles H. Boehm."

"THURSDAY'S CHILD" by VERA BROWN

SYNOPSIS

Leslie (Sonny) Richardson, a vivacious, 18-year-old redhead, is maid-of-all-work in her foster father's roadside lunchroom on the outskirts of Monroe, Michigan. Life to her was just work and arguments with Richardson. She never had any fun. Then, one day, a trailer screaming money appears on the scene. Tom Hollister and Jamie Hicks, two young college students alight and enter the restaurant. Tom looks at Sonny approvingly and remarks, "This looks as though it were going to be a nice evening."

CHAPTER TWO

When Sonny brought them their food, Tom spoke: "Busy tonight?" Sonny's lips were a straight line: "Yes."

Tom Hollister raised his eyebrows as he watched Sonny's rebellious face.

"We thought you might like to go dancing."

"I don't dance."

"Nonsense, you're probably a whiz."

The girl turned away abruptly to hide her face. Tom caught at her dress.

"Hey, wait a moment. We're no big bad wolves—just a couple of kids who'd like a date."

Tom was amazed to see tears in Sonny's eyes as he turned her around. Just why she made an explanation, for Sonny was not given to that, she did not know.

"I don't dance, I tell you. I've never been to one in my life."

"High time you started then. What time are you through here?"

"In an hour. But I can't go, I tell you."

"Why?" the New Yorker demanded in surprise.

"I'm not allowed."

"Don't be silly. Of course, you're going."

"I tell you I don't dance." Her voice was loud for the phonograph had suddenly stopped. Tom jumped up, dropped some nickels in the machine.

"Come, I can teach you in ten easy lessons, I'm good."

He grabbed Sonny's slender waist. "Follow me. It's easy. Just a one-step. Now I'll count."

To her own amazement, Sonny obeyed meekly. They whirled about the floor, Sonny stumbling now and then, her face crimson with embarrassment. If her father should come in, or another customer!

"Don't be so rigid. Just think of the music—now, one, two, three—"

Jamie beat time loudly with a fork. "Good, you're getting it," he called above the music.

Sonny's forehead was damp and her red hair curled tightly about her forehead. Tom kept at it, leading her expertly. When she missed a step he covered her mistake quickly.

The music finally stopped.

They paused, breathless, until he dug out some quarters.

"You're coming on. If you'd not be so scared, you'd do fine. I could teach you to rumba in one evening, so you'd knock 'em cold."

A smile trembled on Sonny's lips.

as she looked up at Tom. But he was deadly serious.

"The whole secret's the balanced turn—watch me."

Tom stepped back, counted as he pivoted neatly.

"Now you do it."

"I couldn't," she murmured, self-conscious again. But Tom would hear no such talk. He insisted that she try. Earnestly, in her flat-heeled shoes, Sonny did as he told her.

She too became intent and serious, so that Tom had to repress a smile. Jamie grinned broadly, winked over Sonny's head.

"Now I know what your career will be, Tom," he remarked. "Nothing like Princeton to turn out good dancers."

feet," Tom was saying as the music swang.

Just how long her foster-father stood in the doorway Sonny never knew, but suddenly she could feel his presence although her back was toward him. She faltered, stumbled. Tom caught her.

"Stop that!" Richardson's voice broke into the music and Tom turned in surprise.

"Get back to your dishes," Richardson said to Sonny. She went without a word.

"And now you two get out of here," Richardson was saying to the young men.

Tom interposed: "I beg your pardon, sir, we were just trying to teach the girl to dance."

"I could see that."

Richardson eyed Tom with stony eyes. "Get out!"

"Princeton?" Sonny stopped suddenly. "You go to college?"

"Yes," Tom grinned. "Anything wrong about that?"

"It's wonderful!"

Tom made a wry face. "Not to me, it isn't wonderful. I just missed being flunked out this spring. That's how Jamie and I rate this cross-country trek. I'm still on the student list, heavens knows why!"

The music continued.

"Come on, you're going great. We're working on the balanced turn this time. Let's get busy."

The two whirled about the bare floor of the lunchroom again, just missing tables. It went better the second time.

"Keep at it. Practice makes perfect."

"But it wasn't her fault. I made her."

Richardson eyed Tom with stony eyes. "Get out!"

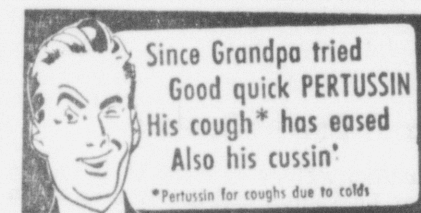

Tom and Jamie were nonplused. It was an amazing experience for a Hollister. The whole thing was so ridiculous he wanted to laugh, but the old man's eye kept him from it. There was nothing to do but depart with what dignity they could muster.

Tom paused a moment, he wanted to apologize to the girl. He felt sorry for the poor kid. Richardson's voice broke in: "I said get out!"

They did.

Dinner Party Participated In By Mothers' Association

The annual Christmas dinner and party of the Mothers' Association of Bristol public schools, was held last evening in the high school building.

The members of the school board: superintendent of schools, Warren P. Snyder; and principal of the high school, David Hertzler, were guests. The dinner was served in the cafeteria, the menu including: fruit-cup, turkey, dressing, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, wax beans, cole slaw, cranberry sauce, celery, radishes, rolls, butter, ice cream, small cakes and coffee.

The tables were decorated with sprigs of holly and red candles. Favors were red and green baskets filled with mints.

Mrs. Earl McEuen, president of the association, served as toastmistress, and welcomed the members and guests. She called upon the directors, Mr. Snyder and Mr. Hertzler, who spoke briefly.

A Christmas carol was sung, after which all adjourned to the auditorium. Mrs. Leo Dugan had charge of the entertainment. A play entitled "The Happiest Christmas." Participants included: Helen Ostrowsky, as Mrs. Jackson; Dennis Dugan, Bob; Dianne Dugan, Betty; Marie Ostrowsky, Jane; Thomas Ostrowsky, David.

Musical numbers were given by Edward Ostrowsky, with his accordion; Carl Vetter, guitar; and John Killian, banjo. Each member of the Association had a "Polly-Mom" during the past year and at this time their "Polly-Mom" was revealed when each received a Christmas gift. These gifts were distributed by Santa Claus, impersonated by Mrs. Frank Kelso. The gifts were arranged in boxes around the lighted tree. New names were drawn by the members.

Mrs. Walter Cooper was chairman of the supper committee, and Mrs. John Sharp had charge of the dining room. The women serving wore red aprons trimmed in green, and red and green bows in their hair.

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church
Eternal God, our Father, hold in Thy loving care all our loved ones, and keep guard over our interests in life. Give us to see the speedy coming of Thy Kingdom among all men, and let us have an increasing share in its establishment. Fill our hearts with expectation, and flood our faces with the morning light, and when the day is done, let the weariness of work make welcome the rest of home, we ask in our Redeemer's Name. Amen.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sharp, Linden street, and Mrs. Benjamin Fusco, Amityville, L. I., spent Tuesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gillard, Wissinoming.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE
There is "unfinished business" in the life of every woman.

So contends Gregory LaCava, the motion picture producer-director, and he has made "Unfinished Business" the premise of his picture of that title, coming to the Grand Theatre.

Irene Dunne and Robert Montgomery are co-starred in the film, said to contain the same successful combination of comedy and drama which has characterized many of LaCava's screen hits.

Preston Foster and Eugene Pallette head a supporting cast that includes

BRISTOL THEATRE

"Belle Starr," the petticoat terror of the Ozarks, comes vividly to life on the screen in the Technicolor production bearing her name, which opened yesterday.

Lovely Gene Tierney, a flaming new personality, won the role of the beautiful bandit queen opposite Randolph Scott, who portrays Sam Starr, the daring guerrilla leader who loved and married Belle.

Belle was a far cry from the rough frontier woman her two-gun history might indicate.

RITZ THEATRE

Who said there was nothing new under the sun? Last night at the Ritz Theatre, was a "new Tarzan," Herman Brix, in a production "The New Adventures of Tarzan," that marks a new and refreshing departure in the presentation of jungle adventure films.

"Bowery Blitzkrieg" features the "East Side Kids."

PROFY TEAM WILL BE PUT TO TEST IN LEAGUE BATTLE

Mill St. Aggregation To Meet St. Ann's Team On Mutual Aid Court

RADIOMEN UNDEFEATED

St. Ann's Last Week Defeated The Strong Manhattan Team

The Profy team of the Bristol Basketball League will receive its test to-night when it meets St. Ann's in the second game scheduled for the Mutual Aid court. In the first tilt, Franklin meets the Diamond team.

The Radiomen are undefeated while the "Saints" dropped their first game of the season. However, last week St. Ann's beat the strong Manhattan team and if its line-up is intact will give the Mill Street aggregation a stiff battle.

Profy's pulled one out of the hat last week when it conquered the last season's champions, Rohm and Haas. Manager Nicolls intends to start the same team of the Profy brothers, Vince and Tom; Dorsey, and Dugan. St. Ann's will have in its starting line-up: Johnny Zack, Bucky Bucknum, Harry Ghoul, Nick Pandetta, and Pete DeLuca or Bernie Ussett.

The Franklin club is expected to encounter little trouble from the Diamond team which has not struck its stride. The Franks have split even in the two games it has played.

First game will get under way at eight o'clock sharp.

FALLS TOWNSHIP VICTIM OF TRENTON

TRENTON, Dec. 11—Coach "Reds" Smith's Trenton High team proved too strong for the Falls Township high school quintet last night on the former's floor as the Trentonians piled up a 46-20 victory. The tilt was a benefit performance for the Poor Kiddies Christmas Fund and the sum of $131 was realized.

Coach "Jimmy" Doheny's boys possessed plenty of courage against the Trentonians but had trouble in breaking down its defense. Only "Johnny" Mansmann, diminutive guard, managed to score consistently, he hitting the cords for 10 points.

Frank Frascella, brother of the famous Nick Frascella of Trenton basketball, led the Trenton team with five double-deckers.

The Trenton Jay Vees were much superior than the Falls Jay Vees as they scored a 41-12 win. The winners had a total of 20 field goals while only Dick Anderson and Johnny Sessa scored double-deckers for the Doheny-men, each counting with two.

SANTA CLAUS WILL BENEFIT BY DEFENSE WORK OF COUNTRY

Pack Will Be Made Lighter
Through Use of Plastics
For Many Items

COLOR TO BE RETAINED

Such Difference in Weight of Pack He May Use Two
Fewer Reindeer

There is a saying that nobody ever shoots at Santa Claus, a prophetic remark once made when a politician was asked whether he thought the Republican party or the Democratic party would win the 1936 Presidential election.

The phrase is recalled by the disclosure that Santa Claus appears destined to be exempted from hardship during the defense program. In fact, it is asserted that his burden is to be made easier. Dispatches from Washington reveal that because of the wider use of light-weight plastics in the making of toys, Santa's load this year will be lighter than it ever was, although none the less sparkling and colorful.

It is not unreasonable that Santa alone should benefit by modern war and its implications. In fact, Santa, in a certain sense, antedated the methods of the blitzkrieg. For one thing, he appears all over the world on a single night, and long before the airplane was invented he roamed over the chimney tops of numerous nations. Before parachutes were made, he wafted down fireplaces with heavy loads of toys.

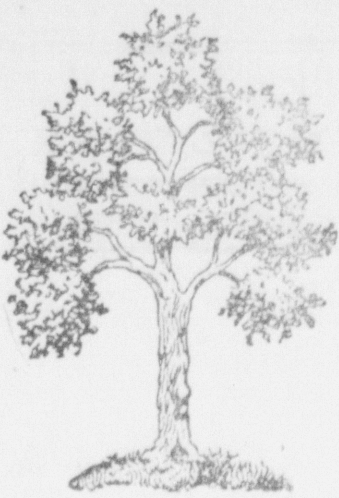

True, he has clung tenaciously to a form of transportation that is now largely passe, but this must be attributed to his appreciation of the romantic. It is good news that this genial characters' burden will be lightened this Christmas by the use of plastics, he may even be able to get along with two fewer reindeer.

PROMPT REMOVAL OF STAINS GIVES THE BEST OF RESULTS

By Miss Edna Stephany
(Home Economics Representative)

Do you know what takes place when a garment goes to the dry cleaner? Most women, who are familiar with shrinkage, colorfastness, and stain removal in caring for the family clothing, sometimes expect the impossible of the dry cleaner.

Many stains are not removed or even affected by the dry cleaning solvent, in which the garments are first wash-

The Mutual Assurance Company, the third insurance company to be organized in America, owed its existence, its Fire Mark and its popular name, "The Green Tree" to the fact that it would insure buildings surrounded by trees. This was contrary to the policy of the other insurance company, the Contributionship. This company is still in existence.

ed. Such stains must be removed with local applications of specific chemicals or even soap and water. This means that the "spotter" must know materials, chemicals, stains, and dyes to recognize and remove all types of stains without damage to the fabric.

You can aid the cleaner in his painstaking work if you call his attention to unusual spots on garments. Some stains become permanent if allowed to stay on the material. Soft drinks make almost invisible stains likely to be overlooked until the garment is pressed with a hot iron when the stains become permanent. Oily stains, unless removed at once, become fast.

Inks vary in composition and some cannot be removed from colored fabrics without damage to the dye, if not the material itself. It is not unusual to find that the lining of cloth belts, fastened with an adhesive substance, dissolves in the dry cleaning solvent. Some buttons and hidden rubber accessories cannot be dry cleaned. The cleaner usually recognizes these and removes them. Shrinkage is a common complaint. Reliable cleaners measure creases and restore garments to the proper size in pressing.

Perspiration and other water soluble soil are not removed in the dry cleaning solvent. For these garments, the cleaner often must use wet cleaning. This is not laundering and is used only when necessary as it is more costly. Measuring the garments is especially important, when this method is used.

Finishing is the most costly part of the dry cleaning operation and is essential in preserving the style and fit of the garment. Finishing includes pressing of entire garment, pleating, blocking of knitted fabrics, velvet pressing, and sewing on of buttons and trimming.

Minerals Needed In the Daily Diet

You may get your protein, your carbohydrates, your fats, and your vitamins but don't forget your minerals, is the warning sounded by Inez S. Willson, home economist.

Minerals are essential to the normal health of every individual. Among their many activities minerals aid in the building of blood, the building of bones, and in muscular activity. They carry oxygen to the tissues and are important constituents of the body cells.

Some minerals are more likely than others to be lacking in the diet. These include calcium, phosphorus, and iron. Iron is absolutely essential in the prevention of nutritional anemia and for building of rich red blood.

Meat is an excellent source of this mineral in a readily usable form. It is difficult to assimilate the iron in some foods but all liver, and especially pork liver, is a rich source of available iron. Lean meat in the daily diet with liver at least once a week will supply a good portion of the iron requirement. Phosphorus is also present in meat in great abundance. It acts with calcium as a bone builder. Without phosphorus and vitamin D, calcium is unable to build bones and teeth.

Sunday Morning Breakfast

Early and late risers usually like a hearty Sunday breakfast. This may be partly due to the fact that there's more time for eating. Then, too, many families combine breakfast and lunch and eat a late dinner. Regardless of eating habits you'll find this sausage casserole is always welcome, says Inez S. Willson, home economist.

Sausage Casserole

1 pound pork sausage links
2 tablespoons water
2 cups milk
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup cornmeal
½ cup shredded bran
Six eggs
Place sausage links in cold skillet. Add water, cover and cook until water has evaporated. Remove cover, increase heat and cook until links are browned. Heat milk and add salt. Add cornmeal gradually and cook, stirring until thick. Add the shredded bran and spread mixture in the bottom of a round 8-inch buttered casserole. Arrange browned sausage links on top of the cornmeal mixture like the spokes of a wheel. Carefully break eggs between the links. Cover and place in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for ten minutes or until eggs are cooked.

GIFT-WRAPPING HAS BECOME IMPORTANT CHRISTMAS INDUSTRY

Grows to the Extent of A $250.00 Business In Dallas, Texas

STYLES ARE ADVANCED

Said To Be Five Years Ahead of Dept. Stores In Many Parts of Country

By Earl Scates
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

DALLAS, Tex. — (INS) — Wrapping gifts in Dallas has in itself become a $250,000 industry and with Christmas just past the next snow flurry, the merchants of this city are planning wrapping styles five years ahead of department stores in many other parts of the country. So to H. G. Cole, head of the gift-wrapping department of a large local paper company.

Cole, who makes it his business to exploit unusual gift-wrapping, established Dallas retailers as pioneers in the field of beautifully packaged parcels.

"Ten or 15 years ago," explained Cole, "Dallas merchants began using expensive ribbons and paper as a merchandising policy." The policy has paid off with increased business. When Mrs. Jones buys a $2 article and has it bedecked with tinsel and foil plus a smart little decoration here and there, it looks like a million dollars, he said.

Cole pointed out that Dallas merchandisers know this and spend much more per 1,000 yards of ribbon than their counterparts in other sections. Houston, San Antonio, and Fort Worth, as well as other cities, are close behind Dallas, however, the wrapping expert asserted.

Brightly colored satins and fine grained papers of many hues will make their appearance on Christmas gifts this year, said Cole. He spiked the rumor that the defense program will make gift wrappings scarce. Because of the need for aluminum, the base for foils, this type of paper is the only one thus far the use of which has been curtailed, Cole declared.

Dallas merchants, far from restricting the use of elaborate ribbons and expensive papers, planned to make their wrapping departments the artistic center of the store.

Cole explained that it was no lack of ingenuity or drive which kept leading merchants in other parts of the country from following Dallas' suit. He said that in some of the very large cities, large populations were such that the merchant could realize no particular advantage from expensive wrappings. In a smaller city, word gets around a great deal faster and brings in the customers.

PENNA. HENS PRODUCED 125,000,000 EGGS IN OCT.

Is An Increase of 7 Million Over Corresponding Month of 1940

NO. OF LAYERS SMALLER

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11 — (INS) — Working overtime for defense, Pennsylvania hens in October produced 125,000,000 eggs for an increase of 7,000,000 eggs over the corresponding month a year ago.

The increase is noteworthy, according to the Department of Agriculture, since the number of layers in flocks on Pennsylvania farms was lower in October than the same month of 1940. The total of 13,699,000 this year compared with 13,758,000 a year ago, Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light disclosed.

"Throughout the country egg production during October totaled 6,600,000 cases, a record production for the month, Light said. "About half of the increase is attributed to an increase in the number of layers and the other half to an increase in the rate of lay. Production during the 10 months of this year also was the largest on record. The rate of egg production per layer during the month reached a record high of 8.2 eggs and the aggregate production of 127.6 eggs per layer in the past 10 months was the largest on record, exceeding the layings of last year by five per cent. And the previous 10-year average by nine per cent. The daily rate of lay on November 1st as shown by sample farm flocks was a record for that date, being two per cent higher than the previous record high of last year and 28 per cent above the previous 10-year average."

Production of canned apple products is making a tremendous advance this year in Pennsylvania, according to Light, include apple sauce, apple juice, apple butter, vinegar, canned apples and canned segments.

The season is not yet ended for the manufacture of these products, but reports show that purchases of apples by Pennsylvania manufacturers exceed greatly any previous year on record. Purchases were of such great quantities in Adams and Franklin counties that apples left for sale as fresh fruit are probably the lightest in quantity during the past 10 years.

The cold storage warehouses in that district which ordinarily at this season are filled to capacity with packaged apples for sale as fresh fruit during the winter months, were largely filled with bulk apples to be used by processors throughout the winter. Canners usually complete packing fruit about January 1st but this year manufacture of apple products will probably continue until spring to complete the processing of the heavy purchases.

The excellent quality of Pennsylvania apples and the fact that they are particularly adapted for canning and processing purposes caused this state to take a leading position in the production of these products, Light said. Interest in bramble plant growing decreased in Pennsylvania during the past year due probably to the increased income farmers received for other farm crops. While growers of certified plants disposed of most of their stock last spring and received fair prices, there were only 108 plantings entered for certification during this year compared with 140 plantings inspected in 1940. There were 83 plantings certified and 25 rejected this year.

Woodside, Jr., Republican leader in the House, has been rewarded for his years of party service with the $3,000-a-year job of chief clerk to the Dauphin County Commissioners. . . . Habbyschaw dispensed patronage on Capitol Hill for Dauphin County Republicans. . . . He is now serving his fifth term as assemblyman and according to reports will serve out his present term. . . . Habbyschaw's chief in the House was elected a judge of the Dauphin County court at the November 4th election but it is not known yet whether Woodside will resign from the House.]

A high Republican leader, who asked that he not be quoted, recently confided that he was opposed to an election-at-large for Pennsylvania's 32 Congressmen next year. . . . Welding, considerable influence in the party, his view may become the prevailing one in the event of a certain deadlock between the Republican and Democratic parties over reapportionment. . . . The impression is growing stronger on Capitol Hill that the Democrats are not particularly averse to a statewide Congressional election. . . . Many Democrats make no effort to hide their belief that President Roosevelt will appeal for the support of Democratic candidates and in that event they predict the election of a solid Democratic delegation in Congress.

Pennsylvania's State Capitol no longer is open to sightseers after business hours and on Saturdays and Sundays. . . . Signs reading "Not open to the public" bar the way to all corridors and steps leading from the main rotunda. . . . The reason? It's not because of fears of sabotage.

EARLY SHOPPING IS ALMOST COMPULSORY WITH WAR CONDITION

Heaviest Buying Rush Since
1929 Is the Indication
At Present

SHELVES OVERFLOWING

Inventories in U. S. Range
From 23 to 53 Per Cent
Higher Than 1940

Although Christmas is two weeks off,
it would be a good idea to shop early and avoid the rush. This is always a good idea, but this year war conditions make such procedure almost compulsory if disappointment is to be avoided. This Christmas there is certain to be the heaviest buying rush since 1929, if indeed it does not outstrip that year by a considerable margin.

Store shelves are still overflowing
in most lines and in some cases war-houses are bulging with the stocks to handle the Yale trade. Inventories throughout the United States range from 23 to 53 per cent higher than last year, with the average about 35 per cent higher. Buyers anticipated a 20 per cent increase in Christmas buying as a minimum and prepared for it.

Not only have stocks in luxury lines
been built up but extensive preparations have been made in staple Chris-mas items such as men's and women's apparel. Raw material shortages may affect the toy supply to some extent to but this year's toy sales are expected to exceed last year's total of $240,000-000. Few foreign toys are available but in recent years America's dependence upon toy imports has become negligible.

Prices this Christmas will be higher by an estimated 15 per cent. In the case of luxury goods there will be a new 10 per cent tax also.

Some Like It Hot and Some Like It Cold

There's just nothing that can take the place of pork loin roast. Its delicious flavor and aroma have appeal for everyone. Summer fudds it on the menu sliced and served cold, in salads, as well as the hot dish in the meal, but the fall and winter seasons just seem to put us in a mood for savory roast pork. When cooked properly and well served it's the big attraction on any table.

Long, slow cooking, says Inez S.
Willson, home economist, is the secret of success in roasting meats and a pork loin roasted to perfection is proof of this revelation.

Have the backbone loosened from the rib side by sawing through the ribs so that the backbone with the ribs can serve as a rack during cooking and be easily lifted from the roast before it is carved.

Place the meat thermometer in the pork loin so that the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Place the pork loin in an uncovered pan fat side up in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.)
and roast until the meat thermometer registers well done or 185 degrees F.
This requires about 35-40 minutes per pound.

Roast loin of pork suggests apples.
Spiced crabapples are a dainty, yet delicious accompaniment but spiced apple rings, baked apples, and apple sauce are also favorites. Escalloped potatoes are a good way to supply starch in the meal. If you want variety try slicing your sweet potatoes, add brown sugar and butter, and bake in a casserole.

EXPECT BIG ATTENDANCE AT THE STATE FARM SHOW

of Last Year, It Is Anticipated

CONTRACT FOR SPACES

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11—(INS)—Attendance at the 1942 State Farm Show, to be held in Harrisburg January 19th to 23rd, should surpass the 1941 turnout when nearly 500,000 visitors passed through the turnstiles, Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light predicted.

As evidence of the mounting interest,
a large number of exhibition spaces already have been contracted for by commercial exhibitors who will display machinery and equipment designed to lessen burdens on the farm and in the farm house.

Interest in farm equipment is expected to reach a new high because of the acute labor shortage in the agricultural field.

The Show Commission, of which Light is chairman, announced that December 4th and 5th are closing dates for livestock and poultry entries, respectively. Entries in all departments excepting poultry are limited to residents of Pennsylvania.

Premium lists have been mailed but it was suggested that any person omitting can obtain information and entry blanks from his county agricultural extension agent or by writing to the Farm Show Commission at Harrisburg.

A total of 8,506 cash awards amounting to $42,558 is offered exhibitors, with the premium money divided as follows: Horses, $3,450; horse and mule pulling contest, $500; sheep,
$3,038; swine, $2,430; beef cattle,
$5,270; dairy cattle, $10,155; milk,
$202; corn, $758; small grains, $201;
potatoes, $554; 4-H Club corn and potato judging contests, $216; cigar leaf, tobacco, $212; apples, $1,853; edible
nuts, $65; vegetables, $589.50; maple products, $185; apiary products, $581.50; wool, $190; eggs, $480; baby chicks, $126; dressed turkeys, $48;
poultry, $8,327; home economics,
$1,877; sports, $65; state vocational demonstration contests, $600; and state contest of vocational school exhibits, $590.

PATRIOTIC DOG

WOBURN, Mass.—(INS)—Dutchie, a thoroughbred Dachshund, pet of Miss Jeanette E. Clark, was revealed as probably the most patriotic dog on this continent. No matter what Dutchie is doing, when he hears the strains of the Star Spangled Banner through the radio, he stands up on his haunches, back erect and front paws held stiffly
at the chest—in salute.

TOTS ENTER A NEW AND WONDERFUL WORLD AT YULETIDE

Pleasure To See His Eyes Sparkle and Smile Appear As He Spies Toys

EXCITEMENT ABOUNDS

Toys Should Be Natural Tools With Which Child Begins Work in World

Young people enter a new and wonderful world at Christmas time. When a youngster is taken into the toy department of a store, it is a pleasure to see his eyes sparkle and his lips expand in a joyous smile. And when the clerk wraps up a few of those things for Christmas, his dancing feet and excited hands reveal how deeply he longs for those treasures of childhood.

Some parents regard toys as merely something with which to keep the child mind occupied, so that its restless nature will not constantly be getting into trouble and creating new problems. Toys do serve that very useful purpose. Many tots have been diverted from acts of mischief by the fascinations of the jumping jack, the toy railroad, the appeal of a set of tools. The remedy for juvenile misbehavior is found in giving the young mind occupation.

But toys should be more than a means for diverting youth from mischief. They are the natural tools with which the child begins his work in the world. He likes to do things with his hands. When given a toy hammer or saw or box of building blocks, or anything resembling things used by grownups, he begins to use his little hands, and they soon become skillful.

The funny little mechanical toy stimulates his imagination, and he asks what makes those wheels go round. He inquires into the operation of machines that the older people use. Given the implements of athletic sport he is equipped with the means by which he can hold his own in the child world. The child without toys should be pitied. Generous people owe it to themselves to see that no youngster has a doleful Christmas because he is excluded from the wonderful world of toys.

SUPPLY OF XMAS TREES IS AMPLE FOR DEMAND

Evergreen Business Totals Upwards of $10,000,000 Annually

CANADA SHIPS MANY

The night before Christmas this year will again see millions of Americans revive the old custom of trimming the tree.

Although this season Christmas shoppers and seekers of holiday cheer may feel the pinch of shortage caused by priority rulings on various raw materials and industries, the supply of evergreen trees is ample to fill the demand which annually swells the volume of Christmas tree business to upwards of $10,000,000.

There is a possibility that the Canadian shipments of approximately two and a half million trees might be curtailed because Canada's war effort has necessitated the absorption of more and more labor into defense industries. Canadian trees, however, have been sold exclusively in the large eastern and mid-west cities, whose markets can be adequately filled by the New England and Great Lakes region supply.

Almost every kind of evergreen tree has been used as the symbol of the Christmas spirit. In the Northeastern and Lake States, for instance, balsam fir enjoys the greatest popularity; in the South, where fir is difficult of access, scrub pine is most commonly used, while in the Rocky Mountain States and Pacific Northwest, lodgepole pine and Douglas fir, respectively, form the bulk of the supply.

Contrary to the belief of many, the cutting of Christmas trees is not inconsistent with good forestry practice. In the first place, most trees are cut by farmers who plant Christmas tree stock on land unsuited for agriculture and receive from their annual crop of evergreen an income large enough to be extremely helpful at the season of the year when all other farm receipts are at their lowest.

Secondly, foresters agree that timber, like any other growing crop, needs to be thinned out in order that the remaining trees may attain their maximum size and strength. This is readily understandable when it is realized that frequently as many as 50,000 to 100,000 young seedlings can be found on a single area. The periodic harvesting of Christmas trees, as of all other types, is actually an important part of progressive forestation. By means of this selective cutting and other accepted practices the timber products companies all over America are bringing our growing timber stand to its present productivity—more than adequate to meet all civilian and defense needs for decades to come.

In other words, the cutting of a certain percentage of young growth, or the harvesting of mature trees before they become over-ripe, is an efficient way of helping Nature eliminate the less fit. Moreover, it helps prevent the accumulation of fallen dead trees, potential breeding places for insects and fungi, and a menace from the fire-fighting angle.

Since the days of the Revolutionary War, when homesick Hessian soldiers here brought evergreen trees from the woods to decorate and light them in accordance with their native German custom, the use of the Christmas tree has been known to us. Because of the feeling on the part of many church-people that the festivity connected to

with the tree was too much of a throw-back to ancient pagan ceremonies, however, widespread acceptance of the decorated tree did not follow for several decades.

In fact, it was not until 1856 that Massachusetts, home of the Plymouth Pilgrims who had denounced Christmas as being a feast day of the Established Church from which they had fled, proclaimed Christmas a legal holiday. Since that time the Christmas tree has become a universally established symbol of hope, life and merriment.

To preserve the appearance and fragrance of Christmas trees, experts of American Forest Products Industries declare, the stumps of evergreens should be cut, diagonally, about an inch above the original cut. Then the stump should be placed in a crock of water, and the tree set up in a room that is not too warm. The moisture in the tree will be maintained in this way, and the needles will drop less readily.

FALSE ALARM

HOUSTON, Tex. — (INS) — The woman alighted from a truck, skipped up the red box on the utility pole, and deposited two post cards. That's right — the red box was for sounding a fire alarm which is just what happened. Seven fire trucks, sirens screaming, roared up and prepared for action. District Chief R. L. Mize looked in the alarm box and withdrew the cards—value two cents. It cost the city $50 to answer the alarm.

LONDON—(INS)—Barney Worth of Bristol has joined the Home Guard. Believed to be the world's heaviest man, he turns the scale at 588 pounds. The biggest problem was his uniform. This was solved by supplying him with two topcoats, which a tailor made into one.

HOLLYWOOD—(INS) — It's easier to answer all the questions in the Movie Quiz than find two jackets alike in Hollywood. It's a season of varied jackets, so very varied that some refiners are even buttoning down the back.

Barbara Stanwyck, with an eye open only for the ski clothes she has since taken to Sun Valley on a belated vacation with Bob Taylor, was wearing a backward reefer for shopping when we saw her. The whole outfit was definitely a demonstration of color at its peak with the reefer jacket of wine and green fastened in back by oversized hooks and eyes of wine braid and the skirt of soft green monotone. Circular seams at the front waistline made the forward view important too.

There's a very new jacket trend too in the revolutionary short bolero-sweater lined with fur. It has a remarkable way of looking both sporty and formal dependent upon its dress or skirt may be. Bette Davis has a hip-lengther in natural chamolite lined with leopard. It becomes a street goer topping Bette's brown wool skirt but takes on an entirely different complexion with dinner clothes.

New, too, is the short fitted jacket with vestee front. Some of these are

HOLLY IS NATIVE OF PENNSYLVANIA; SOUGHT FOR XMAS

Outposts of the Tree Found Growing Naturally In
This State

ALSO ON SEABOARD

In Penna. It Rarely Reaches
More Than 15 to 25 Feet;
Usually A Shrub

HARRISBURG—During the Yuletide season when wreaths and sprigs of Christmas holly bring the spirit of the forest close to the fireside, more than ordinary interest is manifested in this unique American evergreen, according to Charles E. Baer, Deputy Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters.

Although most of the holly found in our Christmas markets comes from the woodlands of the South, the most northern and inland outposts of this tree are found growing naturally in Pennsylvania. Along the Atlantic seaboard holly is native, though an infrequent member of the forests, as far north as the Massachusetts coast. Until recently the natural range of holly in Pennsylvania was believed to be limited to the southeastern border counties from Philadelphia to Fulton County and the three additional counties of Dauphin, Berks and Montgomery. Specimens have been found growing as far north as Clinton County and it has also been reported from Perry, Fayette, Somerset, and Lackawanna Counties. In Lancaster County it can be found along the river from Holtwood to Maryland.

Holly in Pennsylvania rarely reaches more than 15 to 25 feet in height and is usually a shrub. It is essentially a tree of the south where it commonly attains a height of from 40 to 50 feet. The wood is hard, very white, close grained, and of medium weight. It is used for piano keys, wood engraving, whips and special tool handles.

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Priscilla Laen spent one whole day in a nightgown for scenes in "Arsenic and Old Lace" and one whole day in a nightgowning boudoir wear in general.

It seems, from the gist of the conversation—between her and Alta Mae Smith, her stand-in, and also nightgown clad—that Priscilla's biggest fashion weakness is collecting the flimsy stuff of which bedroom wear is made.

Since Priscilla always has a good reason for anything she does it was interesting to hear a defense of what she calls a "weakness."

"Whether she's in her bedroom, den or garden," the youngest Laen said, "a woman should look as pretty to herself as she does when she goes out in the evening to impress other people."

"First, there's the very important little problem of the inferiority complex which every girl suffers from even the best known actress, occasionally."

"And if she's like me these feelings of uncertainty, or even if it's nothing quite so insidious but just 'the dumps' generally, assail her in the morning."

"The best time to nip such a feeling, then, is in the morning. And it's easy. Just by making herself as pretty as possible. And she certainly can't look attractive if she wears just any old thing. If she starts the day looking fresh and lovely she'll feel that way all day. It has a wonderful effect."

"This idea, of course, is being championed everywhere, why else the new array of fireside dresses, lounging pajamas and house coats? However, too few women are taking advantage of it. Some still persist in old, unattractive ways letting friend husband see them at their worst and disliking themselves as well?"

Priscilla told us too that she has devised a formula by which she either starts the day "bright" and ends wearing black or some dark shade toward evening or she starts the day dark and ends it brilliantly because "variety is still the spice of life."

It's her belief that some kind genie had all stay-at-homes in mind when he designed the new peasant clothes with their full and gaudy skirts, sandals that clunk on wooden soles into breakfast, and other similar addenda. One of her brightest includes a yellow linen skirt and low-necked blouse striped with grosgrains, many-colored.

If she isn't working on an afternoon, Priscilla is as likely as not to be found wearing tailored green crepe pajamas with navy pocket monograms and navy sandals—a color combination she has liked for a long time.

Using Traditional Colors As Basis, Occasion Can Be Brought Up To Date

IDEAS FOR DECORATING

Modernistic art and architecture are very fine, but an old-fashioned Christmas is still the best. Using the traditional colors of red and green as a basis, the occasion can be brought up-to-date with pretty modern angels and worldly gnomes of plastic, tin and wood.

Ideas for decorating the house require forethought and planning, even though the job itself must wait for the final hours. Home decorators offer a few suggestions which will help home-makers to plan more attractive Christmas decorations.

For "Gold Standard," broad, gold Christmas ribbon will be the motif, looped extravagantly in swags over the tree and caught up with clusters of big gold Christmas balls strung together. Light this tree with all gold lights. Repeat the theme of gold ribbon swags and gold balls for table, mantel and window decorations.

Silver Bells—Shining silver bells of all sizes spangled thickly over the tree will be different and festive for Christmas, especially with garlands of little shells painted silver and strung together. Or have evergreen wreaths with silvered shells worked into them instead of the usual holly berries or pine cones.

Flashes of Red—An evergreen tree splashed with huge red artificial poinsettias made into garlands, strings of cranberries, red glass balls, then all white lights would be very festive indeed, especially if complemented over the house with evergreen boughs tied with white ribbon and clusters of big red poinsettias.

Della Robbia—An old idea that has a classic enduring beauty is the use of small, perfect, real fruits entwined with Christmas greens to make garlands and wreaths for Christmas decorations. Especially decorative is a wreath like this made on a stout frame inset with candleholders and suspended from above by stout cords of ribbons.

FASHION PARADE

By Terry Kelly
(Famous Hollywood Stylist Writing
For International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Dress for yourself and not for fashion! That sounds like a peculiar statement coming from a designer but it's a commandment every woman should heed in this era of "anything goes."

Not presuming to dictate I would still like to issue a warning on the new daytime fashions that are coming in and which will prove a dangerous fashion

if women are addicted to following any fashion, becoming or not. It's the longer, uneven hemline for late afternoon wear and for dinner. The uneven hemline can appear very awkward if the legs are not perfectly shaped, ankles trim and slim, the feet perfectly shod, limbs encased in the sheerest hosiery. However, if you contemplate adopting this new fashion don't unless your legs and accessories are of model perfection.

It was my suggestion to Ann Sheridan, who was afraid of this new style for up-in-front-down-in-back hemlines even though her legs are perfectly proportioned, to achieve the line more subtly by having the hemline deeply scalloped and dipping to a mere inch-and-one-half. The deep scallops gave the effect of more drastic back sweep without having any of the awkwardness of it. We worked it out in a charming dress in a combination crepe and wool, black, with easy fullness in the bodice, long full sleeves and the accent of a soft velvet moss rose at the waistline.

So, no matter what anyone tells you about hem lengths or hem lines stand before a full length mirror and study yourself. Then shorten or lengthen to the most attractive part of your own individual leg line.

That's a trick that in one full swoop does away with both arbitrary measurements for fashion and the old problem about "how many inches from the floor in relation to my height." It also explains how Brenda Marshall and Olivia de Havilland both with the same height can in "Captains of the Clouds" and "In This Our Life" wear dresses of entirely different lengths. Both girls know the secret of adapting fashions to themselves not themselves to fashions.

Liver Loaf Recipe

Here's a new and delicious way of preparing liver for an economical meal, suggested by Inez S. Willson, home economist.

Liver Loaf

1½ pounds liver
1 cup bread crumbs
Juice of ½ lemon
2 tablespoons tomato catsup
½ cup pork sausage
1 small onion, finely chopped
1 egg, well beaten
1 scant teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
Remove the skin from liver. Cut into slices and cook in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and put through food chopper and add the remaining ingredients. Mix well, adding one-quarter to one-half cup water or milk if the mixture seems too dry. Turn into a loaf pan lined with slices of bacon. Press the mixture firmly into pan and lay strips of bacon over the top. Bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 degrees F.) for one hour.

The Spicy Frank

Everyone likes frankfurters—their spicy, zesty flavor is one that has universal appeal. There are many ways to prepare them, including placing them on a stick and broiling over the coals of a camp fire. They make delicious quick one-dish meals, too, when combined with such prepared foods as oven-baked beans in tomato sauce and cooked spaghetti in tomato sauce. Here are recipes using them in this way—you'll find them grand for fall serving:

Baked Beans, Frankfurters and Bacon

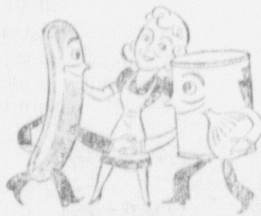

Turn into casserole—
2 medium (18-oz.) cans oven-baked beans with pork and tomato sauce.

Spread over top—
2 tablespoons tomato ketchup.

Arrange side by side on beans—
4 to 6 frankfurters.

Then lay over frankfurters—
2 strips bacon.

Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 40 minutes. Serves 5.

Spaghetti and Frankfurter Casserole

Have finely chopped or ground—
½ pound frankfurters.

Combine with—
1 small onion, chopped.

Open—
1 large (24-oz.) can cooked spaghetti in tomato sauce.

Place alternate layers of spaghetti and frankfurters in buttered casserole, beginning and ending with spaghetti. Cut in one-inch pieces—
2 slices bacon.
Dot bacon over top, then bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 30 minutes or until well cooked through. Serves 4.

New Filled Cookies

The fruity spiciness of apple butter makes it a grand filling for the cookies you place in the children's school lunch boxes or serve to them with a glass of milk when they come home tired and hungry. You can buy very good apple butter in glass jars—fresh-tasting and tart and made from an old-fashioned recipe.

Apple Butter Filled Cookies

Cream together—
1 cup butter
2 cups brown sugar

Add—
1 egg.

Beat until fluffy. Stir—
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda

Into—
1 cup buttermilk.

Add, stirring until soft dough is formed—
6 cups sifted all-purpose flour.

Chill for an hour or two, if time permits to make it easier to roll.

Roll to ½ inch thickness, cut in round shapes, and place—
1 teaspoon apple butter—

In center of each of half the cookies. Cover with cookies of the same size and press edges together with a fork. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in a hot oven (400° F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

CURE FOR WORLD'S ILLS

NEW ORLEANS—(INS)—Charles Morgan, former drama critic for the London Times, now on a lecture tour of the United States, has a cure for the world's ills. All the world needs for future peace, according to Morgan, is society completely devoid of politics and "drama." The organization, he said, should maintain armed forces sufficiently strong to "prevent political peace-breakers from breeching world peace."

ST. LOUIS 'TOY MAN' WILL AGAIN SPREAD CHRISTMAS CHEER

For 15 Years Edward F. McDonald Has Been Making Such Gifts

FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

Is Known As One of Santa's Chief Deputies In That Missouri City

By Gene Roguski
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ST. LOUIS—(INS)—The workshop of Edward F. McDonald, 53-year-old St. Louis bachelor, is a bee-hive of activity as the Christmas season approaches.

Each fall for the past 15 years, McDonald gets his tools, and makes toys from wood to be distributed on Christmas Day to under-privileged children. He is known as one of Santa Claus's chief deputies in St. Louis.

"I made and gave away 1,211 toys last year," McDonald said. "It looks like I'll give away about 1,500 this year."

The toys McDonald makes range from dogs, horses, elephants, and wagons to miniature houses and the like.

"One day back in 1926 a few days before Christmas while I was pursuing my trade as an interior decorator," McDonald said, "I happened to be working in a tenement district where I noticed the meager existence of a family."

"I overheard a conversation between a small, curly-haired girl and her father. The little tot asked her parent, 'What's Santa Claus going to bring me, Daddy.' The father shook his head and sadly replied: 'Something swell—I hope.'"

"When I came home from work that evening I made a wooden doll, and gave it to the little girl the next day."

"I told her the doll was from Santa Claus. Her blue eyes sparkled with joy."

"I decided then and there that something ought to be done in cases where parents haven't the financial means to provide toys for their youngsters on Christmas Day. I've been making toys since that time."

McDonald does not don a Santa Claus suit and deliver the toys in person. Instead, he contacts rectors of churches of all denominations and asks them to send to him heads of needy families to get the toys.

Of his work, McDonald says: "I've found it an enjoyable hobby."

BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.

(Famous Hollywood Make-Up Specialist Writing For I. N. S.)

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — In 1917 Gloria Swanson was a screen star and a glamor girl.

Today, in 1941, Miss Swanson is still a screen star of the first magnitude. For demonstration of this point, observe her performance and her powers of box-office magnetism, as displayed in the recently released picture in which she co-starred with Adolphe Menjou.

But Miss Swanson's return to pictures has demonstrated more than the simple fact that she still commands star status in the cinema. It has also revealed that despite the passing of the years, Miss Swanson is one of the most completely glamorous personages in all filmdom.

This fact should be of interest to every woman.

To those who are no longer very young it should offer comforting reminder of the point that the passing of extreme youth need not and should not signify that glamor is also a thing of the past.

And to those who are very young, the adult and richly developed glamor presented by the extraordinarily lovely Miss Swanson should offer first, a reassurance, and second, a warning.

This rich glamor should reassure really young misses that they need not fear that the coming years must decrease their beauty and charm.

From there, this same glamor should go on to warn them that while youth is a priceless beauty and glamor asset, they still should not depend upon this youth, to the exclusion of all other qualities, for their powers of charm and attraction.

The girl who counts too completely on youth as a glamor asset is heading for a let-down. In spite of widespread wishes to the contrary, youth must and does depart.

If this departure is anticipated and prepared for by the cultivation of personality, perfection in appearance, and the command of studied smartness, this passing need not be the cause of concern.

But the girl who has banked too heavily on the lasting qualities of youth alone too frequently finds it difficult or impossible to command these qualities of personality and smartness when she at last discovers that youth really has gone.

Too often these bitterly youthful women turn to extreme devices of culture, make-up, and grooming to conceal the passing of youth. Such devices can be effective up to a certain point. Beyond that point they are powerless. The artifice of hair styling, cosmetics, and girds are not primarily designed to conceal age. Their prime purpose is to accentuate and dramatize the naturally attractive features which are apparent in every woman, regardless of her years.

CHRISTMAS CALLED THE MOST BEAUTIFUL HOLIDAY OF YEAR

Needs Some Remaking, However, If It Is To Be Helpful To All

R U S H UNDESIRABLE

Habit of Last-Minute Shopping Increases Cost of Distributing

Christmas is called the most beautiful holiday of the year, a holiday permeated with poetic imagination and lovely sentiment. But it has its incongruities and contradictions and it needs some remaking, if it is to be reasonable and helpful to all.

The most undesirable feature of Christmas has always been the grand rush to buy gifts and ship them during about ten days previous to the holiday. People for years have been shown how unbusinesslike this habit is, how it increases the cost of distributing Christmas gifts, that it imposes a heavy burden on stores and their employees and post office workers, that most of these people are completely tired out when the grand scrimmage ends.

But people continue in this ancient habit, and no doubt this year will bring the same old rush. But the agitation for early buying of gifts has accomplished something and many people now do their shopping before the final rush.

The reason usually given for last-minute Christmas shopping is that people do not have the money to shop early. Well, this year they had better borrow it because there is going to be an unprecedented shortage of goods in many lines long before the dawn of Christmas Day.

BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.

(Famous Hollywood Make-Up Specialist Writing For I. N. S.)

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—Banks, insurance companies, and investment counselors in general continually and commendably stress the point that the coming of middle age or old age should be financially anticipated and prepared for.

Women should also anticipate and prepare for the appearance which they must present in later years.

This column has repeatedly declared that the passing of the years need not be coincidental with the departure of feminine beauty and glamor.

There must, however, be some reservations made for the above statement. Being attractive in middle age does not automatically follow being attractive in youth. More often than not, middle-aged attractiveness must be prepared for, far in advance, and finally cultivated and perfected.

Precise perfection in every detail of appearance is actually more essential to the woman of 40 or more than it is to the miss of 20. If she is to be truly attractive, the weight of the more mature woman must be precisely correct for her height, age, and bone structure. Her posture must be regally erect. She cannot give way to the carelessness of costume, coiffure, or make-up application which are sometimes—but not always—cute and forgivable on a comparative youngster.

It pays for a woman to school herself in habits of correct posture, maintenance of figure, and careful exactness in grooming practices when she is in her teens or early twenties. It is much easier to acquire these habits when one is young than it is to pick them up in ten or twenty years later.

For the sake of future appearance, young women should keep a close watch on their facial expressions, and see to it that they don't form the habits of frowning, squinting, biting or pursing the lips, or allowing their mouths to droop. Any of these practices can be easily overcome when one is 20. At 40, however, they may have become permanent facial fixtures.

Even more than young women, those approaching middle age should avoid spectacularity in make-up. Overly rouged cheeks accentuate age. So do eccentric shades of lipstick or fingernail enamel, and face powder which is too light in color and too heavy in application.

Conditioning care expended on the hands, neck, arms, and shoulders when one is young will pay rich beauty dividends in later years. Wrinkles usually are first evident on the above mentioned skin areas. Cream treatments during youth can frequently delay the appearance of such wrinkles for a good many years.

Bear in mind that hair which has been dyed a jet-black is seldom flattering to a woman of 40 or more. Any other tint is more advisable for a complete concealment of gray or white with dye, if one's heart is set on such hiding of the real hair color. The most smartly groomed middle-aged women of today, however, are favoring natural gray or white hair, rather than dye subterfuges.

HUGE CANDLE IS TO FEATURE DALLAS YULE

Will Continue To Burn For Six Weeks Annually For 2 Centuries

TAPER IS 12 FEET TALL

DALLAS—(INS)—Dallas Christmas season this year will be marked with the burning of a candle, the largest in the world, which will burn for six weeks before future Yuletide celebrations for the next two centuries.

The mammoth taper is 12 feet tall, 13½ feet in circumference at the base, weighs 4,600 pounds and cost $5,000. It would burn continuously for 18,500 days.

The candle has been under construction since last April, being dipped every two minutes for 25,000 times and cooled by electric fans while in the air between dips. It was made by the Ajello Brothers, famous wax artists of New York, whose most famous work previously was the Enrico Caruso Memorial Candle which burns for one day each year, on All Saints' Day, in a little Italian church, in memory of the great opera tenor. It was constructed to burn for 1800 days. They have also made candles for the coronation of George VI, the weddings of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson, of the Princess Juliana of Holland, and of Anne Morrow and Charles Lindbergh.

SUPERMAN IN THE MAKING

MARKS, Miss—(INS)—Growing at the rate of a foot a year, 13-year-old Max Palmer is posing quite a problem for his foster-father, Albert Henderson. The student at Walnut Consolidated high school at 13, is seven feet tall, weighs 200 pounds and wears a number 14 shoe. All of his clothes have to be made especially for him. Two brothers are of normal size.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT IS INTERRUPTION FOR WAR

Germans and French During
First World War Exchanged
Small Gifts

EMOTION OVERCOMES

Despite the horror and suffering
among World war soldiers, the spirit of Christmas was not kept out of the trenches.

In "A German Deserter's War Experience," the author, an anti-government Socialist, tells of a Christmas celebration on the Argonne front.

"Christmas in the trenches! It was bitterly cold. We had procured a pine tree and decorated it with candles and cookies.

"At midnight the whole line of German soldiers began to sing Christmas songs in chorus.

"The French left their trenches, and, quite overpowered with emotion, stood with caps in hand. We exchanged gifts with the French—chocolate, cigarettes, etc. They were all laughing, and so were we; why, we did not know.

"All around silence reigned. The charm continued, and one scarcely dared to speak. Suddenly a shot rang out, then another. The spell was broken. All rushed to their rifles. Our Christmas was over."

TWO MILLION YULE TREES WILL BE USED IN STATE

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11 — At least 2,000,000 Christmas trees will be used in Pennsylvania during the Yuletide season this year, G. Albert Stewart, Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

Of this number about one-third will be of home grown stock and the remainder will be shipped in from other states and Canada. Growing trees on idle land for the Yuletide season is becoming an important and profitable part-time occupation for farmers and other landowners in the State. The advantage of home grown trees for this purpose is obvious, since they are freshly cut and not so liable to injury in shipment. Species most commonly used are Norway spruce, white spruce, balsam fir and several species of the pines.

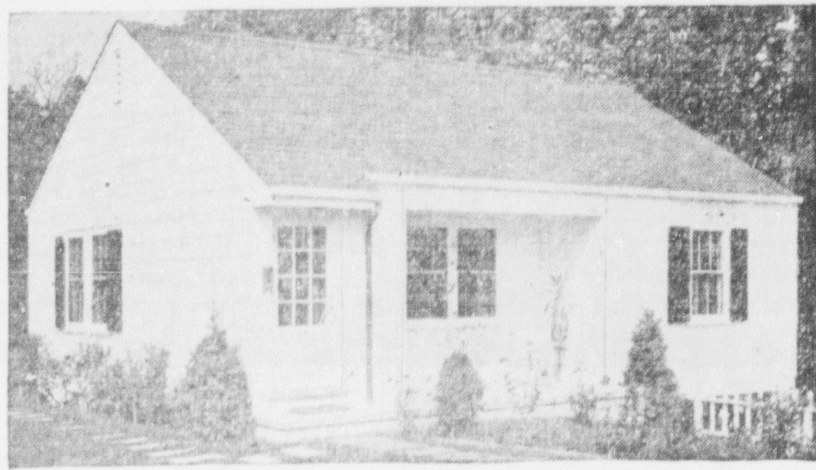

The cutting of this large number of trees is not an excessive drain on the forests since the Christmas trees used in Pennsylvania in a single year can be grown on less than a thousand acres. Six times as much forest area is cut over by the toothpick industry in a single year in the United States as is cut over for Christmas trees.

It is illegal to cut Christmas trees from the State Forests or from privately owned land without the consent of the owner. The penalty for the removal of each tree, or part thereof, is $25.00.

Property owners who have plantations of evergreens can guard them against theft by using an obnoxious spray composed of hydrated lime and fish oil. This preparation is made by mixing 20 pounds of lime and one pint of fish oil in 50 gallons of water. This spray not only gives a tree an ill odor but destroys its appearance temporarily and makes handling difficult. It is effective for several weeks and will not injure the tree.

The history of the Christmas tree extends so far back that it is difficult

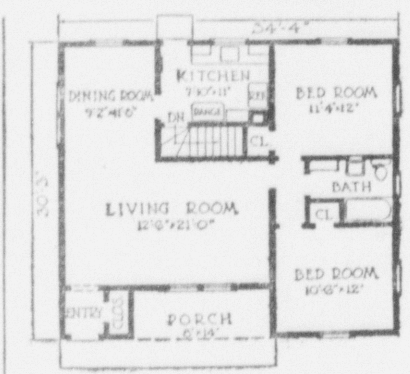

COMMUTER'S COTTAGE

There are plenty of inexpensive lots close enough to allow commutation every morning and evening, yet far enough from high land values to be bargain properties.

This little home was designed for such a lot . . . and for economical living. It is so small it would cost very little to build and would be inexpensive to heat, yet it has enough living space to accommodate a family of two to four persons.

Inside, the living room is extremely large, considering the size of the entire house, and the dining room is spacious enough for all practical purposes. The bedrooms were designed to take either twin beds or double beds, if necessary. The kitchen, although small, has been scientifically planned to conserve space.

For particulars, address the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, 1337 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C., referring to Design 2-2-13-1.

nators "bugged" today when they found some termites under a house. The insects were sportingly attired in red, white and blue.

Apparently the termites had fed on red, white and blue yarn inside a baseball. Since they have transparent outer skins from which recently consumed food shows through, they appeared to be all dressed up for an Independence Day party.

AIR SPOTTING CENTER

MIAMI, Fla.—(INS)—Miami shortly will become the central point for all air spotting in the nation, Lieut. Col. Richard Gimbel of the Third Interceptor Command declared here.

"The coast will be lined with air

spotters—more than 20 of them to be stationed every six miles," he said.

Under the direction of Maj. Walter H. Frank, members of the civilian volunteer observers unit in Florida will be tested for duty during December and January.

LAZINESS DIVORCE GROUNDS

BERKELEY, Cal.—(INS)—Modern divorce courts have nothing on the Yuman-Piman Indians who inhabit Southwestern United States and Northwestern Mexico. Laziness, among other reasons, was sufficient grounds for severing the matrimonial ties. This is shown in a study of the culture of the Yuman-Piman Indians made by Philip Drucker, former graduate student at Berkeley, and just published by the University of California Press.

QUIT SCHOOL FOR JOBS

NEW YORK — (INS) — More than

2,000 New York City students have forsaken education for "defense" money. Board of Education officials disclosed that the students have left their classes to accept jobs paying $15 to $25 weekly.

Delicious Foods To Add To Your Holiday Enjoyment

With Christmas dinner to plan, and luncheons and suppers to arrange for, the business of systematic menu planning becomes all-important. Here are some first-aid tips to the busy home-maker—recipes certain to enhance her reputation as a cook and make holiday meal times something to anticipate.

Roast Fillet of Beef
Have fillet larded, ready for the oven. Season and place in an open pan. Have oven very hot so that meat will sear over at once. A four pound fillet requires about 40 minutes to roast. After roasting about 20 minutes add a little hot water. Serve with brown gravy. Mixed cut and cooked vegetables make an attractive garnish.

Crown Roast of Pork
12 ribs pork
2 cups dry bread crumbs
Salt and pepper
1 teaspoon savory
6 small onions
4 tablespoons flour
Paprika

Have butcher trim and roll meat into crown so that bone is on the outside, fastened together with string. Stuff with dressing, bread crumbs soaked in cold water and then squeeze dry. Mix with salt, pepper and savory, and onion chopped, and paprika. Place dressing in center of meat. Cover ends of bones with greased paper to prevent browning too much. Put roast in hot oven and cook for one-half hour. Then lower heat and cook two hours. Baste often.

Riced Sweet Potatoes
One large can sweet potatoes, butter and brown sugar. Butter a baking dish, fill with layers of riced sweet potatoes, sprinkle with brown sugar and dot with butter. Bake about three-quarters of an hour.

Sweet Potatoes with Marshmallows
1 pint sweet potatoes, mashed
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons maple sugar or syrup

Beat all together and press into a shallow baking dish. Smooth the top, and cut into squares with a knife, dipped into boiling water. Place a marshmallow on each square. Bake in a moderate oven until marshmallows are nicely browned.

Baked Cauliflower with Cheese
1 cauliflower
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons grated cheese
2 tablespoons coarse bread crumbs

Cook medium sized head of cauliflower until tender, in boiling water into which you have put salt and a teaspoon of flour. Drain and separate in flowerets. Arrange in a well buttered baking dish. Make a white sauce by melting butter, stirring in flour and slowly adding milk. Season with salt and 1 tablespoon grated cheese. Pour over cauliflower. Sprinkle 1 tablespoon cheese over the bread crumbs. Cover top of cauliflower and sauce with crumbs and cheese, dot with bits of butter and sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven until brown, about half an hour.

Spinach Frits
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 can spinach
2 eggs
Chop spinach fine and mix with white sauce made of the butter, salt and milk. Add well beaten eggs last and bake 25 minutes in hot oven.

Frozen Fruit Salad
Put 1 tablespoon butter in double boiler, add 2 beaten egg yolks and mix with 3/4 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, one-third teaspoon paprika, dash cayenne. Add two-thirds cup milk, one-third cup lemon juice. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Strain into a bowl, beat 2 minutes with Dover beater and cool. Add one-quarter cup each of orange sections, sweet cherries, pineapple, and peaches, cut in small pieces. Fold in 1 cup whipped cream. Put in tray in refrigerator 3 to 4 hours. Cut in slices and serve on lettuce.

Orange and Cheese Salad
Soften 2 cups cottage cheese with sweet cream, season with salt, pepper, and 1 tablespoon gelatin soaked in 4 tablespoons cold water and dissolved over hot water. Add orange vegetable coloring. Pour into individual ring molds, chill. Unmold, fill centers with orange sections and chopped nuts which have been marinated in French dressing. Serve with whipped cream mayonnaise to which has been added a few drops of orange coloring.

Ice Box Rolls
3/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
2 well-beaten eggs
8 to 10 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
Yeast size of walnut
Pour boiling water over sugar, salt and shortening. Let cool until lukewarm. Add yeast dissolved in tablespoon water, and eggs, well beaten. Add flour until dough is proper consistency. Let rise over night and mold down in the morning. Shape into biscuits. Let rise until light and bake. This dough will keep for a few days in a cool place.

Mince Pie
1 recipe for pastry
3 cups homemade or prepared mincemeat

Prepare pastry. Fill with mincemeat. Cover with top crust. Bake in hot oven about 10 minutes. Reduce temperature slightly and bake about 30 minutes longer. Particularly delicious served with cheese or hard sauce made with a little brandy.

Christmas Fruit Cake
1 pound butter
1 pound light brown sugar
1 pound flour
9 eggs
2 pounds currants
2 pounds raisins
1 pound citron, thinly sliced and cut in strips
1/2 pound candied cherries
2 teaspoons mace
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 pound almonds, blanched and shredded

Cream butter, add sugar and beat thoroughly. Separate yolks from whites, beat yolks until thick and lemon colored, whites until stiff and dry, and add to first mixture. Then add milk, fruit, nuts, flour mixed and sifted with mace, soda and cinnamon. Put in buttered deep pans, and steam 3 hours and bake 1 1/2 hours in very slow oven. Be sure to wash raisins and currants. Will make about 10 pounds of cake.

XMAS CARD DREAM GIVES BUCKS ARTIST HEADACHE

Charles J. Freericks Finds Himself With Thousands of Cards on Hands

PAINTINGS BY FRIENDS

One Bucks County artist has a big headache, and six other artists of this county have minor headaches. The headache cause is 30,000 Christmas cards.

It all started on a hot day last July, when some artist pals of Charles J. Freericks, of near Doylestown, were complaining about the life of artists—not having steady incomes, and finding times hard.

Freericks, it appears, gave the artist pals an idea as to how they could raise some funds, when they started "beefing" about the difficulty of making a living. "I stuck my neck out," he says. "I told those artists to quit grousing and get busy on a winter subject that could be used for a Christmas card. I said I'd pay them $50 each as advance royalties, and we'd call ourselves the Bucks County Press and sell Christmas cards."

The artists with whom Freericks discussed the project were: Antonio Martino, Philadelphia artist with several Academy awards; Paul Froelich, who lives at Lahaska and teaches at the School of Industrial Art; Sandor Bernath, of Tunkhannock, noted for his paintings of Gloucester fishing boats; Howard Willard and Robert Patterson, magazine illustrators of Upper Black Eddy—Willard teaches at Cooper Union in New York; Patterson used to be on the staff of Vogue in Paris; and Harvey McClelland, of New York, specialist in painting historic houses.

Freericks paid the $50 to each, with the result that he finds himself $400 poorer today, and the possessor of six Christmas drawings by his pals, which resulted in an order for the group of 30,000 reproductions, or 5000 of each drawing. Also Freericks has a not-so-cheery bill from the printer. "That's where I stand now," he concluded. "And besides, I have to stand the cost of mailing lists and advertising to get those cards out of my barn. And all the other artists are worrying about is why they haven't got more than 50 bucks out of their effort. Art, my friend, is a headache."

FOODS WITH A FESTIVE AIR

White Layer Cake

2 cups sugar
3/4 cup butter
5 egg whites
1/8 teaspoon salt
3 cups flour
6 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/4 cups milk
Cream butter, add sugar, beaten egg whites. Add flour and baking powder and milk alternately. This makes 2 layers. Bake in medium oven.

Ice Box Cookies

2 cups butter
2 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
5 1/2 cups flour
2 tablespoons molasses
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup nuts, chopped
1 cup dates
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cream butter and sugar; add eggs; beat well. Then add nuts, dates, sifted flour and soda; add vanilla. Let stand over night, cut in small pieces and flatten out thin with spoon. Bake in moderate oven.

Scottish Fancies

1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup rolled oats
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

2/3 tablespoon melted butter
1/3 teaspoon salt
Beat egg until light, add gradually the sugar, then stir in remaining ingredients. Drop mixture by teaspoon-fuls 1 inch apart, on a greased baking sheet. Spread into circular shape with a case knife, first dipped in cold water. Bake in moderate oven until delicately browned.

Cream Surprise

Vanilla wafers
Whipped cream
Chopped nuts or Chocolate Shot
Prepare on individual serving plates as follows: Place one wafer on plate, cover generously with whipped cream. Continue layers of water and cream, using about 4 wafers. Spread top and sides with cream and sprinkle with chopped nuts or chocolate shot, decorating to suit. Allow to stand 3 to 4 hours before serving.

Date Pudding

2 cups dates, chopped
2 cups bread crumbs
1 cup flour
1 1/2 cups finely chopped suet
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
Mix together and moisten with 2 eggs beaten in a little milk. Put in buttered bowl and steam 3 to 6 hours. Figs may be used instead of dates. Serve with wine sauce or "hard sauce."

Steamed Pudding

2 cups grated raw potato
1/2 cup butter
1 1/4 cups flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda dissolved in the potatoes
Cream butter and sugar, add spices and salt, then potatoes and flour. Steam 3 hours. Serve with hard or soft sauce. Re-heat when served.

Chocolate Pie

4 teaspoons cocoa
3 tablespoons cornstarch
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Melt butter and add cocoa and cornstarch. Then add beaten egg yolks, sugar, milk and flavoring. Top with egg whites or whipped cream.

LEAVES MONEY TO PAY FOR CARE OF CHILDREN

Frank O. Trauger, Durham Township, Directs That $6,000 Be Set Aside

OTHER WILLS ARE FILED

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 11—Leaving a personal estate of $13,000 and real estate of $2200, Frank O. Trauger, Durham township, directed that the sum of $6,000 be set aside in a bank to provide the payment of $20 a month to the individual who takes care of three children.

For the individual who takes care of a son, Ralph; a daughter, Betty, and a son, Norman, bequests of $2,000 apiece have been placed in bank with the direction that the caretaker shall receive $20 a month which shall be deducted from that amount.

The remainder of the estate will be inherited by the "first and second children."

Harvey Trauger was bequeathed the automobile or the home and Mrs. Harvey Trauger was bequeathed $500 for her work. Harvey Trauger and William Trauger, Kintnersville, were named the executors.

A son, William J. Winner, Richboro who was also named the executor, will inherit the $100 personal and $1500 real estate holdings of Margaret S. Winner, Northampton township.

The $300 personal estate of Susanna Hepler, Richland township, will be inherited by Alice Clewell, 722 Cherokee street, Bethlehem. Ammon S. Rosenberger, 301 Tohickon avenue, Quakertown, was named the executor.

A husband, Henry S. Stackhouse, was bequeathed the residue of the $300 personal estate and real estate holdings, including a lot and house at 60 Laurel Place, Trenton, N. J., of Anna M. Stackhouse, Lower Makefield township.

The testatrix, who bequeathed $300 to her namesake, a granddaughter, Anna S. Woolman, directed that at her husband's death her estate be divided into four equal shares as follows: Lillian Woolman, Arthur H. Stackhouse, Marion M. Stackhouse, and the Bristol Trust Company in trust for John R. Stackhouse. Arthur H. Stackhouse, Yardley, was named the executor.

Letters of administration in the estate of Nicholas Stadler, Bedminster township, were granted to a son-in-law, Edward F. Hendricks, of Pipersville, where the well-known businessman lived. The personal estate was valued at $5,000 and upwards and the real estate includes two acres at Pipersville.

The heirs include his widow, Elizabeth; three daughters, Anna Hendricks, Kathryn Horvath and Evelyn S. Brucker, and a son, Nick, Jr., a minor. Edward F. Hendricks was named the executor.

In the estate of David William Scammell, Jr., Lower Makefield township, letters of administration were granted to a son, David William Scammell, Sr., Yardley, R. D. 1. The heirs include a father, David William, Sr.; a mother, Meta; a sister, Elizabeth, and two brothers, Scott, 2d, and Robert W. Scammell.

FOODS WITH A FESTIVE AIR

Chicken Supreme

2 chickens
3 eggs

1 pint cream
Boil chicken, then cut in small pieces, stir in beaten yolks lightly, add cream, season to taste, fold in beaten whites. Fill one pound baking powder can nearly full, set in pan of hot water and bake one hour. Make gravy of broth. To serve, cut in slices and put spoonful of gravy on top.

Fried Chicken

Cut a 5 pound chicken into pieces for serving. Roll in flour and fry in generous amount of butter and shortening until a delicate brown. Put in a covered casserole or Dutch oven, season with salt and pepper, and add 1 bay leaf, pinch of thyme, 1 sliced carrot and 1 sliced onion. Add no liquid. Cover tightly and bake 1½ to 2 hours in slow oven. Remove chicken to platter, and thicken liquor in casserole for gravy.

Chocolate Layer Cake

1½ cups sugar
3 egg yolks
1 cup milk
3 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla and almond
5 egg whites
Mix shortening and sugar, add well-beaten egg yolks. Sift flour 2 or 3 times and add baking powder and salt. Then add alternately with milk to batter. Stir in flavoring and beat. Stir in stiffly beaten whites last. Bake in 3 layers. Put together with chocolate frosting.

Coffee Spice Cake

1 teaspoon nutmeg
4 cups flour
Vanilla and salt
1 pound dates
1 pound nuts
½ pound candied pineapple
2 pounds raisins
½ pound citron

1 package figs
Cream butter and add other ingredients in order given. Chop all fruit and nuts very fine. Bake 1½ hours in slow oven.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas, by reason of the unprovoked and dastardly attack made by the Japanese upon America, its citizens and possessions, Congress has declared a state of war to exist between the United States and Japan, and the President has so declared, and

Whereas, "Fleetwings, Inc." situate in the Borough of Bristol is engaged in the manufacture and production of aircraft parts and accessories necessary for and to be used in the manufacture and production of airplanes and aircraft equipment, now so necessary to be used in the defense of our Country, and

Whereas, the plant of said "Fleetwings, Inc." abuts upon Radcliffe Street in the Borough of Bristol, a much travelled public thoroughfare of the said Borough, and

Whereas, by reason of such location the plant of the said Company is subject and susceptible to enemy attack from the said Street, thus requiring the closing of the said Street in part for the protection of said plant, and

Whereas, as a result of the closing of said Street in part, public travel and traffic will be diverted over Pond Street, thus greatly increasing the volume of travel upon the said Street.

Now, Therefore, I, Clifford L. Anderson, Burgess of the Borough of Bristol, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested, and pursuant to the action of the Council of the said Borough, do hereby order and proclaim:

That on and after Wednesday, December 10, 1941, and until further proclamation, Radcliffe Street from Monroe Street to Green Lane, shall be closed to travel and traffic thereon and thereover, and I do further proclaim that here shall be no parking on Pond Street from Mulberry Street to Adams Hollow Creek.

I call upon all citizens to comply with the terms and provisions of this proclamation, which is issued and promulgated in pursuance and by virtue of action taken and adopted by Borough Council.

In this hour of stress and peril to our Country I call upon all citizens to come to the aid of their Country and defend it from the unwarranted and unprovoked enemy attack, so that the integrity and security of the United States of America and the freedom of its people shall be forever preserved.

CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON,
Burgess.
